

WHY NOT BE A WRITER?

As a writer, you can earn pitiful amounts of money writing the stories, scripts, articles and books that no publisher in their right mind would ever want. Millions of pounds are paid annually in fees and royalties, mostly to illiterate celebrities who have nothing original to say. Attempting to gain a slice of that pie will be depressing and emotionally draining.

To help you feel like a proper writer we offer you a first-class home-study course that's been created by writers who can't actually sell any stories of their own – with generic guidance from expert bullshitters and flexible tuition that expands to meet your bank balance. We'll show you how to procrastinate, how to talk about books you haven't written or read and how to continue to pay for courses that only serve to prevent you from actually doing anything!

In addition, we'll tell you what basic amenities you can live without and the best ways to turn your 'ideas' into worthless, unsalable pieces of shit. In short, we'll give you everything you need to tell people that you're a proper writer, no matter how devoid of talent you might actually be!

By filling out our paperwork and studying our syllabus, you can invest time and effort into your writing career and don't actually have to bother writing anything! In no time, you'll have earned a diploma which means absolutely nothing to anyone in the fields of journalism, publishing or advertising. It's just that simple!

It's ideal for beginners. No previous experience or special background is needed. You write and study at your own pace, which – if previous students are anything to go by – will be positively glacial. In the meantime, we'll keep collecting the direct debit and you can feel like a proper writer by complaining about deadlines and playing game after game of Solitaire.

We are so confident that we can help you feel like a proper writer that we will take your money and never ask you to prove you've done any writing, ever!

Tom, London

"Thanks to the writer's life I have no money, no partner and a tenuous relationship with reality. I can put up with these things because I tell myself I'm a writer, despite the fact that I spend most of my time looking at inane rubbish on the internet!"

Jenny, Gloucester

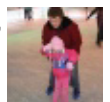

"I wrote poetry when I was at university, but somehow got out of the habit when my career started progressing. 20 years later, I found myself yearning to get back in touch with my creative self. This course makes it easy for me to spend money on my dreams, without actually having to do anything!"

Mark, Sunderland

"I always thought that I didn't have time to write, despite the fact that I would spend four hours a night watching TV. Thanks to this course, I can tell people I'm a writer and watch endless repeats of Top Gear on Dave. And I don't even drive!"

Sarah, Penzance

"Thanks to your fantastic course, I've realised how empty my 9 to 5 existence is, so resigned from my job. Now my partner's threatening to leave me, as I have no income and we can't afford to feed the children. I'm living the dream!"
